Cengar

For decades, professionals in numerous industries have chosen Cengar for its reliability, safety, and low maintenance requirements. Cengar pneumatic saws are used on offshore platforms, in petrochemical refineries, in shipbuilding, in pallet manufacturing, in industrial vehicles, and in marine maintenance.

All pneumatic machines are ATEX-certified and are characterized by their cutting speed, long service life, and low vibration levels, allowing for continuous use even under the most demanding conditions.

The company was founded in 1945.
